High School Conference on the Arab-Israeli Conflict

WHAT: The Pacific and Asian Affairs Council's (PAAC) fall conference focuses on the Arab-Israeli conflict. Students from across the state are invited to this event to explore the history that divides the Middle East region, and the conflicts that have escalated to the recent war between Israel and Hezbollah.

For more information visit: <http://www.paachawaii.org/highschool/conferences.htm>

WHEN/WHERE: October 21, 2006; 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
Hawaii Tokai International College, 2241 Kapiolani Blvd.

COST: $5 conference fee for students includes lunch. Parking is $2.

CONTACT: Contact Natasha Chappel at 944-7759 and register by October 16.

SPONSORS: This conference is presented by the Pacific and Asian Affairs Council (PAAC), and is supported through an in-kind donation from Hawaii Tokai International College.

PAAC is a private, non-profit organization that promotes increased understanding of world affairs, particularly Asia-Pacific issues, by sponsoring speaker forums and conferences, facilitating cross-cultural exchange of international visitors, and conducting global education outreach programs at Hawai'i high schools and community colleges statewide.
