

Global Leadership Camp

at Winners' Camp, Hawaii Kai

October 6-9, 2018

Students strengthened their leadership and communication skills, completed challenging ropes courses, discussed difficult topics like homelessness, and increased their awareness of global issues.

I am discovering my potential as an individual. We went through so many things that challenged us to be the best we can be while also maintaining a strong sense of perspective. The person I was at camp is the person I want to be everyday .

2018-2019 Cohort

This year's cohort of 22 students represents 17 public and private schools on Oahu, Kauai, and the Big Island.

Schools: Campbell, Farrington, Hawaii Preparatory Academy, Hawaii Technology Academy, Honokaa, Kahuku, Kapaa, Keaau, Konawaena, La Pietra, Nanakuli, Punahou, Roosevelt, Sacred Hearts Academy, St. Andrew's Priory, Waialua, and Waianae.

Below: Scavenger hunt and discussion on the UN Global Goals

Workshops & Activities:

- Personality Types: What is your Leadership Style?
- Nonviolent Communication & Conflict Resolution
- Power & Unearned Privilege
- Design Thinking
- The World of 100 - A simulation showing the unequal distribution of resources around the world
- UN Global Goals
- Ropes and Climbing Courses
- Sunrise and Evening Hikes, Morning Yoga

“Being surrounded by like-minded people who come from so many different walks of life while we all tackle issues together is an experience like no other.”

I emerged from camp a new human being— a leader that is educated about unequal privilege, human rights, the importance of vulnerability, the Global Goals, and most of all, the ability to trust in other people.”

Guest Speaker: Joshua Cooper

A professor and activist who frequently travels to the United Nations, Joshua Cooper spoke about the creation of the UN Global Goals, how nations are addressing them, and what we can do to help Hawaii achieve these targets by 2030.

Guest Speaker: Dr. Loretta Chen

A creative and marketing director, leadership and theater professor, and best-selling author, Dr. Chen gave her TED Talk on The Power of Failure and brought in her Theater 101 students at Leeward Community College to show how theater can be used to shine light on social issues.

“The ropes courses taught me that I’m capable of more than I think and also the power of support (the spotters). I want to live my life diving in to the unknown and the most challenging situations if it means I’ll come out a little wiser than before.”

Ropes courses are used as a metaphor for reaching goals in life

Stretching minds and bodies during morning yoga

Above: facing fears and succeeding on the rock wall and a ropes course

“The discussion regarding homelessness was definitely my favorite. I like listening to people’s perspectives and ideas, and the discussion broadened my horizon regarding the issue.”

Right: Morning hike on Kamehame Ridge

“Camp was life-changing.”